“ My auntie raised me like I was her own son, she took me into her family and made no difference between me or her children. I will always remember the lessons she taught me and all the love she shared with me through those years, even as an adult her love did not change. I can still hear her laughing and joking, I am blessed and privileged that my kids got to meet her and spend some time with her and share some laughter before she went home. She is home with the rest of the family now. One day we will see them all. My condolences goes out to my cousins, her children and her grandchildren, my love and prayers also. Thanks auntie for the laughter and the joy. Rest In Peace.
