Clint and I were teammates at L.S.U. in the early 1980s. Everybody loved Clint--he always had a smile and positive attitude, friendly, funny, and a great player and teammate. Rest in Peace.

I was the offensive line coach at Opelousas High School when Clint played. I coached for 35 years and Clint was the best offensive tackle that I ever coached. He also played defensive tackle and rarely came out of games. Clint was excellent on defense also. He was so fundamentally sound! Clint was a senior during the 1979 season on the best high school team that I ever coached. We could play with anybody and Clint was an integral part of our success. I haven't seen Clint in the last several years but he was always in my heart and I asked about him frequently. I wish that I could speak with him now. I miss the big guy.

I played against Clint for four years in High School and played with him at LSU. Clint was a man who revered God and lived a life conscious of who his savior Jesus Christ was IN his life. He was an example of how to treat his fellow citizens. His presence would consume every room he stepped foot in. He cared and loved to give to whatever the need was. I can't tell it all because it would take 63 years to tell Clint's story!! I'll see you in heaven my Brother!!!

*Clint was always a gentle giant. I knew him well from his years at Opelousas High.
He was a very talented football player, yet he never did use that as leverage with the faculty.
You could tell he had great upbringing at home. He was always so polite and respectful.
