“ #RestEasyDaddy 🙏 100 Take me back to this day when we went on that lit vacation to Atlanta, Georgia. Take me back to those days when I had all the Jordan's 👟👟 that ever came out. Take me back to those days when even when you ain't had it 💰 you made sure we left out the store with literally anything ✨. Take me back to those days when you used to tell me when I was too young to go back in the house it's dark 🌑. Take me back to those days when every weekend we went to the Skating Rink 100. Take me back to those days when you always bought me chicken off the back 🍗 ona hill ona back by Blanchard Street 100. Take me back to those days when you use to let me sit on your lap and drive the steering wheel on that green Oldsmobile 100. Daddy I know you in heaven 🙏 watching 👁️👁️ over us but real talk I'm gone make you proud 😊 even if it mean the death of me 100. Ever since you left I lost my mind but I'm still holding up 💪 100. - BRANDON TRE'VON BARNES

“ Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Many have found true comfort in the pages of God's word the Bible (2 Corinthians 1:3, 4). In God's word we find the promise that we can be reunited with our loved ones (John 5:28,29; Acts 24:15). The Bible tells us where this happy reunion will take place (Psalm 37: 11, 29; Matthew 5:5). We are told why we die (Genesis 3:17-19; Romans 5:12), and that Jehovah, the God of the Bible (Psalm 83:18), will end death forever (Isaiah 25:8; Revelation 21:3,4). At John 8:32 Jesus said " and you will know the truth and the truth will set you free". For more information please visit the website jw.org.

“ I am not quite sure where to start except to say that it was just all too soon. You will be surely missed by many but especially me, the relationship you and I had was like no other, but the one thing I can honestly say is that we understood each other. I know I gave you a hard time but you just wouldn't expect anything else from me, because that is the way we expressed out love. We got angry with each other but you know I never was far away if you needed anything no matter how upset we got. The conversation we had on Monday, December 15, 2014 plays over and over in my head, I know you aren't suffering anymore and the hurt I feel right now won't last always, but there are a few things that you left me with that let me know that everything will be just fine. The last couple of conversations we had, the look on your face, the fight you put up, dude, I can honestly say, you are a soldier and just know I am very proud of you. You fought a good fight, now I know why you said to me what you said to me on Monday, because you knew you were leaving me soon. I keep coming back to view your obituary in non-belief, Rest Easy Big Brother until we meet again. I Love You

“ My deepest sympathy to you all. Please find comfort in knowing that the scriptures promise a time when our love ones will see life again. At John 5:28, 29 the Bible says 'those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out.' This is Jesus' promise of a resurrection. And Isaiah 25:8 assures us that "he will swallow up death forever...the sovereign Lord Jehovah will wipe away tears from all faces." - for more information and comforting scriptures visit www.jw.org.
