Miss Me, But Let Me Go
Author Unknown

*When I come to the end of the road,
and the sun has set for me.
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room.
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little—but not too long,
and not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that was once shared.
Miss me, but let me go.
For this is a journey we all must take, and each must go alone.
It's all a part of the master's plan, a step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick of heart, go to the friends we know.
Bear your sorrow in good deeds. Miss me, but let me go.*

“Miss you Myrna” and I regret not being there due to illness to express my condolences and offer you support doing this period of bereavement. Cherish the fond memories of your Mom cause they will be with you for a lifetime 🌸❤️🌸. I will always cherish the time, dedication, and inspiration your Mom provided to me as one of her first grade students. She helped to develop my reading skills & education foundation for which I will always remember and remain grateful. She was an awesome educator and spiritually driven women. Thank you all for sharing her with our community! Friends forever...

“ I was a student in Mrs. White's first grade class at Lawtell Elementary in 1954. She was a very energetic and dedicated teacher. It seemed like she never sat down, always hovering over us to make sure that we understood what she was teaching us. I entered her classroom unable to speak English nor read. She taught me how to do both in one school year. She was truly a great teacher. Rest in peace, Mrs. White. My condolences to the family.
