“ Please accept my sincere condolences and deepest sympathy on Carlos' passing.

I met Carlos during the early 1990s at the Zydeco Festival in Plaisance.

At the time, he was working for LPB and I was working for AOC.

He was kind, welcoming, helpful, and friendly.

Although we haven't stayed in touch over the years, I'd hear about him every once in a while from our mutual friends in the TV business, so he was never very far out of mind.

We will keep the repose of Carlos' soul, and the well-being of his family, in our thoughts and prayers.

“ Way back in the early 1990s, when Carlos was at Louisiana Public Broadcasting, he worked with me, Rick Smith, and Charles Bush on the Ernest Gaines documentary. He was always in a great mood, very funny, and always there to lighten a tense mood. My funniest memory is when he was driving on a divided highway with the rest of us in the van, speeding a bit. A police car passed us going the other way and Carlos said "Nanny-nanny-boo-boo!" Well, that cop had spotted us and soon enough he had made his way to our side of the road, stopped us, and gave Carlos a ticket. I assume LPB paid it.

So sorry to hear of his death, Tresha, and I can tell how much you loved each other. He looks like the ideal big brother.

“ To you J. C. and Tresha, and to the rest of the family, you have my most heartfelt condolences and prayer for strength, peace, and courage at this time.
I will not be able to make any part of the final journey with Carlos as my schedule was fixed and cannot be broken. Yet, my thoughts and prayer will be with you all.
Carlos was always so gentle, soft and smooth spoken, and very respectful always and that is how I will remember him. I don't think I ever saw him with a frown on his face, but that smile and laughter was always a winner for me. He shall always be a "Who Dat Eaglin" to me ! 🙏💔
