“ Deepest sympathy on the loss of Jr. Mrs. "Dee" and Hick, I am truly saddened that I am unable to share in the home going services. However, I am there in spirit. I'm just glad Otis was able to come and represent our family. God bless you and I will continue to pray for your family. You all are such sweet and kind people.

“ Sending condolences to the Hunt family. We all know that Jr. is in a better place. As said in John 14:1-4, “Let not your hearts be troubled. Believe in God; believe also in me. In my Father’s house are many rooms. If it were not so, would I have told you that I go to prepare a place for you? And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again and will take you to myself, that where I am you may be also. And you know the way to where I am going.” God may not come when you want him but he’s always on time. Love,
The Francis Family

“ My heart goes out to all the family things will never b the same. I keep replaying that night n my head over an over. But also all the long late night talks we had the previous week and u told me u prayed an ask God to forgive u for everything an u found peace an u kept listening to this church song and I ask u y that same song everytime an u said bcuz it brings you peace. U even apologize to me personally an a couple other ppl as well. An u said u love me an we would work everything out. U even said lets go to church Sunday but late that night u said I'll just spend all day with u we gonna go next Sunday. U got up on cooked us a gumbo baked my favorite cake and fixed my food. We ate while watching football. Then we talked an I started snapping pictures of u an u said really Cricket an laughed. & that's how I wanna remember u smiling and happy. I loved u more than u know. I'll miss the sweet txt the funny faces you'd send through the day just all the little things. U was the nicest person I've met. As the 26th get closer the more I pray for the strength for your family an I to walk through those doors to c u an say our final goodbye. A day hasn't went by that I haven't cried an wished things would b different. But no more stress an worries rest peacefully James 🥹

“ To: the Hunt Family

From: Rev. Junius Egby, Jr. and Family

I want to take time to express our condolences in the lost of your son James Jr. He was a true friend. I worked with him for a year at the Opelousas Sewer Plant, and he always was the same. He was kind, helpful, and considerate of others. I feel like I am a part of the family. We were friends that carried on the tradition from our fathers who were friends at the City of Opelousas. My prayer is that God would comfort your hearts and minds as you deal with this. May God be with us all. Take care and call if you need anything.

“ Growing up in Greenwoods on College street, being so close we were all raised as brothers and sisters. Being the youngest myself, he was more like the little brother I didn't have. The word cousin just don't seem appropriate. When "we truly all we got" to each other we are brothers and sisters raised by each other's mothers and fathers. Nothing against the words of others, but I cannot use the words, "sorry for your lost" or "I know how you feel" or "if you need anything call me." Yes the departure from this life leaves us feeling lonely but not in the sense of lost without hope; unless the very being you loved from the moment eyes opened in the womb, to the moment (and beyond) eyes closed in the grave, you can't relate to a feeling that cannot be expressed verbally; and of course help is needed... dependency is one of the strongest binds in society, by which we were made dependent on one another -- so don't ask (if I may borrow the Nike motto) "Just do it"! Do something! Do whatever your heart inspires you to do! Be a contributor to the process that truly aides in the RIP expression. By the way (in my opinion) RIP is for the ones who remain and have to endure the life long absence of the "Dearly departed". So please let's assist our family (any way we can), to help facilitate a proper rest and peace of mind, that all is well.

Strength and Honor with the utmost Love and Empathy,
