“ The first time I met John he was picking me up off the ground after my first fight. I was going back for more and he convinced me it wasn't the right move and told me I'd have better days. I figured if he was that smart, kind and much larger than I was, he'd be lucky to have me as a best friend, so I protected him all through elementary school. One day at football practice at Truman, I put a nice block on Carmouche. He told me that wouldn't happen again. The next play he hit me so hard I decided football was no longer my sport. He was a gentle giant but you didn't want to push him over the edge. I remember him always brushing those thick waves into his jet black hair and rarely seeming to have a bad day. He is missed!!! We are praying for you and your family
