“ Today is the day that we say our see u laters,I'm really sadden that I'm unable too attend,but you know I Luvd you dearly,a very important person too me my SWEET GOD-MOTHER, know that ur GODCHILD Loved you sooooooo much,when we seen each other we would have the biggest smiles on our faces and give the tightest hugs,I didn't know that would be my last hug and smile,when they told me that you gained ur wings, I couldn't do nothing but cry,but today I'm stronger,you loved telling people I was ur Goddaughter and I admire you for that,I remember when I was a little gurl I went too ur house one summer,it was different from being at my parents house,but I enjoyed every minute there, We Luvd you,but God Luvd you more,a God-Fearing Strong Woman that's wat you were, and for that I know ur rejoicing in Heaven saying I did my work on earth and know I'm here with the Lord,I Luv you Aunt Loretha and will miss you soooooooo much,hugs and kisses from me and my kids too you my Sweet God-Mother,My Angel now,Prayers for my family and me also,may this day be of healing and Strength too get y'all thru this day and many more,Luv y'all again!!!! 🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

“ Mawmaw Loritha.

She was a good fearing woman.Full of godly advice .I will miss all those times we prayed in the morning and at night.The love and the care she showed to any and everyone .She was the person I could talk to about any thing .The times I took care of her was a blessing .Im happy to say she was my hero and she loved God and all her church family and even strangers.Im miss her dearly but I know she dancing in the sky and watching over me .Until we meet again ❤️😞

Your grand daughter Tonekia or Nekia like you would call me

“ When I got the news of Sis. Loritha's passing, I wanted to get up and shout and do a dance! The JOY I felt because this dear saint of God has gone on to Glory! If you knew her conversations about her GOD! Our last conversation on July 9, before she got as sick as she did, was a 27 minute, 58 second conversation about how God works in our lives. She was testifying about how her son Bertrand and her daughter Lisa, who had received salvation before her, as teens, and had changed so much. How they were so God like because they were going to church, reading their Bibles, praying. They were really interested in God--not the usual teen thing. How it affected her decision to seek God herself. Just so many wonderful things we talked about--how God strengthens and keeps His people. She had such an influence even on my mother's decision to receive salvation--she had such a love for God and people. My children were like her own--they called her 'mum' just like her children and grandchildren did. Oh the stories that could be told about this great woman of God.
Now she has gone on to receive her reward! HALLELUJAH!
God bless you Sis. Loritha. It was an honor to have known you.

Your friend & sister in Christ,
Sis. LaDay

“ My darling aunt, Loritha Freeman, was an inspiration to everyone. She was a woman of grace and anything she had was yours also. She opened her home to all and most importantly shared her testimony of God entering her life and creating great change within her. She was grateful for being baptized in Jesus name and dearly loved her family, church family, and community. If there was any advice she would give it would be for everyone to read Acts 2:38 and do as Jesus commanded. We love her and always will.

*Her niece,
