“ Mrs. Darjean taught me in middle school at Lawtell Elementary. I remember her stern expression accompanied by a twinkle in her eye and a forced frown on her face when she scolded some of my rambunctious peers, and I always looked forward to her well-coordinated outfits each day. Her shirt, skirt, stockings, and shoes always matched perfectly, and that is why I am lighting a blue candle in her honor, for her blue outfits were always my favorite. My prayers are with her family and friends during this time, and I wish them peace and comfort.
