“ *My deepest condolences to the Bob and Thomas family on the passing of a wonderful and caring person, Mrs. Lucille Bob Thomas. My fondest memories of Lucille was when she and I attended catechism classes together at Holy Ghost while in elementary school. Even though I was from the North End (North Elementary) and she was from the South End, it did not make a difference to her. During one of those summers, Hurricane Audrey came ashore and we were advised by our teachers to immediately leave the Church and return home to be with family. We were so afraid - the Church had become dark and the winds were strong. Lucille reassured me and others that "it will be okay"..she had that way about her and I never forgot that. What a privilege to have known such a kind and generous woman, Rest in Peace my dear friend.
Your catechism friend,
Isabella Broussard Thompson*

“ Mr Leroy and Children,
Your wife and your mom was truly one of the most giving human beings I have ever met, and a remarkable person to know. She was a dedicated and loyal friend and I was soooo attracted to her business intelligence. I think about all the times I spent talking and laughing with her. And of course, all the amazing meals she cooked that I truly enjoyed. Whenever I walked in the door, she would always call me, "Mrs Obama";)) I am so blessed that I was able to share those memories with her. Although death hurts, everything that happens prior to death is a preparation for the final journey, one, we all have to take! Death is only a symbol of a beginning, not the end. It's just the final journey to God. The Word of God says, "There is more than enough rooms in My Father's Home. I go and prepare a room for you, and when everything is ready, I will come and get you, so you may be with me also". I pray God's comfort to you all by knowing that when you all said "goodbye" for now to your wife, your mother, He said, "welcome home" forever daughter!

This pain and sorrow of your loss are but for a moment, your memories of joy will be for a lifetime!

My thoughts and prayers are with you all at this time of bereavement.

With Heartfelt Condolences,
Pudgy
