“ Please accept my sincere condolences for your loss. Death is the enemy of all mankind, yet when it touches us personally, it is at times difficult to receive the comfort we search for. In times like these I know I can find comfort in God's word.( 2 Cor 1:3 )

“ I ran into Michael about a year ago after we hadn't seen each other in years. We did a lot of catching up on lost time. We'd laugh at how he'd come and spend weekends at our house and he'd have his little grocery bag full of clothes and he'd talk smack to my dad as soon as he'd hit the door lol we'd play hide n seek in the house and he'd have me and my brother crackin up laughing. Lol we had some good times. I'd see him at his job all the time up until a few months ago and we'd chill and laugh about everything under the sun. He would go off on all the guys that would look at me over there and tell them "don't be lookin at my little cousin man keep it moving!" Lol I'm gonna miss how much he'd make everyone laugh. At least I have some good memories and he can continue to make me laugh and smile even though he's gone! R.I.P. Big Boy!
