“ I know we only met each other this year, but I had the pleasure of getting to know you as a person and a helleva co worker. You were always willing to give a helping hand whenever needed and always willing to go that extra mile to get your hrs because you wanted to be that strong, supportive, head of your household who only wanted to do right by your wife and kids. You were a very hard worker, a loving dad and husband, a great brother to your sister and a equally as great son to your mom. To know you was to know that you made an impact on your fellow co workers lives as well as customers you did encounter along the way. It was a privilege to had met u as well getting to know you personally. You started off shy and quirky but I caught u a few times dancing around a corner or singing than when u seen me seeing you, you stood straight up like u weren't until u had to laugh at yourself. We had adult life talks, we talked about the business, we talked about you always wanting to better yourself, mainly for your wife and kids. You will be miss my brother! Still feels weird not hollering at you, and I take pride in letting people know what type of worker and friend u were as well as being glad I was able to help in recommending u to get hired. We always had a thing when we seen each other from a far or up close. We would dab each other and say “What’s up Fam”. Fam meaning family on a personal level as well as being apart of The Lowe’s Fam of 1822.

“ To all the Love Ones, and to a mother like myself there are no words that can be said only prayers for the Lord Jesus to comfort and hold on to his children at this time and the days and years ahead. The pain over the lost of a Love one never goes away, it just gets a bit better in time. Some times it takes a bit longer than other times. So when the foot prints in the Sand remain one set of prints know he is still carries you until he knows you can walk and not stumble.
