“ Hello Myrtle Marie, It's difficult to say how long I will be coming to this site every year to say hello. It's been three years, and it seems like the more time passes, the more I remember so much. So anyway, I miss you, and I know Obie does as well.

I am sure you are safe, happy, and pain-free, not having to take medication and just enjoying heaven.

I think your sister is dealing with menopause now. At my age, I expected more from being in the 70 Club. It's not all bad, but your nieces live in different places now, and I live alone. I always thought it would be you and me living in Duck's little house in the back. I think I might just find a place where I can mingle with others now that being in my house is a bit much.

I haven't been home since your services. I want to, but you and Mommy aren't there anymore, so I would rather not visit just yet.

I spoke with your friend Ms. Handy, during this past weekend. She wants November 1st to be the day she remembers you. I guess that's comforting to you. As for me, you cross my mind every day. It's not the same without you, but knowing that you don't have to take medication anymore gives me joy.

I am still working. My mind is good, and I continue to want to learn more. I have a few friends in the workforce, so it's good. Erica and Karl Jr. are living on their own now. Both have their own place. Erica has Tater Tot, and Karl Jr. has Jessica (his wife). Yep! He has a wife.

Well, I better end our annual conversation. I love you, Marie. Hugs for all my loved ones with you now. Btw, I have your charmed bracelet, and I keep it close by.

“ Hey Myrtle,

Finally, I am accepting your going away. I am struggling with 3 brothers and not having you here to keep them in line. You always had that firm voice to let them know how you felt.

I wish you were here but I know you are not coming back. I have to wait until we meet on the other side. It gives me peace to share a memory with you.

Do you remember when we went to the hair salon together and then we went to church's chicken (your choice); A place Mommy would have never approved of? Then we went home and you slept for a while and I was trying to make sure that I got all your things in order before it was time to drive back to H-town.

You used to ask me when I was coming back. I am yet to know if you were asking because you were going to miss me or you were glad to see me gone for a longer period.

I miss you. All my life I had a sister. I appreciated you as my sister. I have to move on I know but it's not always easy. Obie talks about you all the time. He misses you more I think. I sent him another picture of you.

*Well, I better get back to work. I love you, Myrtle Marie Greene.

“ Hey Myrtle it's almost a year since you left this earth. I think about you every day. I look at your picture every morning when I wake up and every night when I go to sleep. It's not the same for me without you. For the short time that I was your caretaker, I can remember so much. Daddy always wanted you to have the best of the best. Mommy was always so particular about who cared for you. You are the best sister I will ever have. I still have your charm bracelet that I wear many times. It's just not the same Marie but I know that you are resting. Love you always. Cheryl

“ Marie, I will miss Cheryl telling me that you are doing well and that you could be stubborn but you were always the best sister to her! I considered you a sister that I never met because I would always ask how's Marie? I know that you are resting in peace with mommy and daddy and I am sure playing your Nintendo and collecting new stuffed animals. I will take care of Cheryl and make sure she is ok! Rest In Peace sweet Marie.

I love you Cheryl and Joel Jr. I too would ask, "How is Marie?" She will surely be missed. Marie was an Angel and the "Charles Family" loved her, but now she's gone to meet Rene and Joel_her parents. Now it is left to us to move forward because God now has her in Heaven. Lift our heads and be strong in the Lord. I know you're going to miss Marie, but know that she is safe with her parents and God_Our Supreme Being.

So sorry for your loss Pastor Greene. Marie was a Special Angel sent from Heaven to touch the lives of Sis & Rev. Greene and the rest of the family. I'm sure Marie was overjoyed to once again be with her Mom and Dad in Heaven, but most of all to be safe in the arms of JESUS. Totally remembering your family in prayer.
